Wilmington – In his weekly message, the Governor expresses gratitude to Delawareans for pulling together and helping one another get through Hurricane Sandy.

“Our state, local private and non-profit organizations and emergency responders at every level pulled together to get us through this storm,” said Governor Jack Markell. “Many went without sleep or seeing their families to work through the storm. Delawareans displayed an incredible amount of patience with Mother Nature and while we fared better than the forecast predicted and better than surrounding states, our hearts go out to the millions of people in places outside of Delaware who remain traumatized by the storm.”

At noon every Friday, the Governor's office releases a new Weekly Message in video, audio, and transcript form. The message is available on:
